United States Firm in Determination to Stay Strong: Truman

President Addresses InterAmerican Conference at Rio Today

Quitandinha, Brazil, Sept. 2 —(AP)—President Truman said today the United States is "determined to remain strong" to back up a foreign policy based on a desire for permanent peace.

He told the interamerican defense conference that this "is in no way a threat," because "no great nation has been more reluctant than ours to use armed forces."

But, he said, "our aversion to violence must not be misread as a lack of determination on our part to live up to the obligations of the United Nations Charter or as an invitation to others to take liberties with the foundations of international peace.

"Our military strength will be retained as evidence of the seriousness with which we view our obligations."

Nevertheless, Truman expressed confidence that current international disputes can be settled without armed conflict and gave this pledge:

"The world may depend upon it that we shall continue to go far out of our way to avoid anything that would increase the tensions of international life."

Expresses "Deep Concern"

"We find," he said, "that a number of nations are still subjected to a type of foreign domination which we fought to overcome. Many of the remaining peoples of Europe and Asia live under the shadow of armed aggression."

And he asserted that European economic recovery has lagged because of "political fear and uncertainty in addition to the devastation caused by war."

He laid down a four point American foreign policy under which he said the United States will pursue the quest for peace with no less persistence and no less determination "than we applied to the quest for military victory." The four points:

Four-Point Policy

1. Under the Marshall plan, he said, America intends to do its best "to provide economic help to those who are prepared to help themselves and each other." He added that the United States is prepared to do everything it can "within safe limits, that will be helpful and effective."

2. Fidelity to the United Nations. "We shall not forget our obligations under the Charter, nor shall we permit others to forget theirs."

3. In carrying out its obliga-

Guayaquil Force Joins Insurgents in Ecuador Revolt

Guayaquil, Ecuador, Sept. 2 —(AP)— The army garrison of Guayaquil, Ecuador's leading port, joined the revolt against the regime of Col. Carlos Mancheno today, saying it no longer recognized him as the chief of the government.

Capt. Antonio Rivas Hidalgo has assumed command of the Guayaquil forces, the garrison announced in a statement.

Quayaquil is a Pacific port about 170 miles south of Quito, the capital.

In the region between, government troops supported by tanks and artillery were reported driving against anti-Mancheno forces. Mancheno's nine-day-old regime declared insurgent resistance was easing.

Last night the Ambato radio, broadcasting the first communique issued so far by insurgent headquarters, said rebel troops were battling Mancheno's forces "in the vicinity of Ambato," a strategic rail town 60 miles south of Quito.

A radio broadcast from Ibarra, 90 miles northeast of Quito, said troops from Tulcan had arrived in Ibarra and were thrusting toward the capital. The troop garrison at Tulcan went over to the side of the anti-Mancheno forces yesterday.

Attack Near Socabon

The latest Mancheno government communique said an attack was launched by government forces yesterday along a railway line about two miles from Socabon, with the aim of smashing "enemy" resistance. Socabon is about three miles northeast of Ambato.

Mancheno, who seized control of the government in a bloodless coup last week, abolished the con-

Non-Operating Rail Personnel Awarded 15½ Cent Increase

Chicago, Sept. 2 —(AP)— An arbitration board today awarded a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour, effective yesterday, to nearly 1,000,000 non-operating workers on the nation's major railroads. The men had asked a boost of 20 cents.

Under an agreement reached by the unions and the carriers, the findings of the arbitration board of six members headed by Dr. William Leiserson, former chairman of the National Labor Relations Board, are binding upon the parties.

The increase was the third awarded to this classification of railroad labor in little more than a year. In 1946 they were awarded a boost of 18½ cents an hour.

On April 18, 1946, the non-operating workers were awarded a boost of 16 cents an hour after carrying their demands through the machinery set up under the National Railway Labor Act to curb transportation tieups. On May 26 of the same year they were granted an additional two and one-half cents an hour.

Non - operating personnel, amounting to about three-fourths of the lines' total employment, consists of clerks, telegraphers, maintenance men and others not employed directly in the running of trains.

24 Days of Hearings

The findings were based on hearings conducted in Chicago from Aug. 4 through Aug 28. In ashing for the full 20 cents the 17 unions of non-operating workers contended they did not enjoy wage benefits comparable with persons doing comparable work in other industries. they had not shared fully in the nation's expanding prosperity and there has been a measurable increase in their productivity.

Witnesses for the railroads contended the workers were paid equitably, that granting the demands would be financially unsound and that revenues were not keeping apace with increased operating costs, which include payrolls.

At one session of the hearing, L. W. Horning of New York, vice-president of the New York Central system, estimated a 20 cent increase would hike payrolls by $566,000,000 a year.

Neither the railroads nor the brotherhoods commented immediately on the arbitrators' findings. The two railroad members of the six-man panel, Henry A. Scandrett, Chicago, former president of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific, and J. Carter Ford, Washington, counsel for the Association of American Railroads, dissented from the board's report and did not sign it.

Aussies Will Reduce U. S. Purchases Soon

Canberra, Sept. 2 — (AP) — Premier Joseph B. Chiefley announced tonight that Australia would reduce sharply its purchases from North America to cut the nation's dollar expenditures.

The reductions are designed to reduce an estimated $85,000,000 deficit in Australia's dollar trading this financial year.

Labor Day Brings Fighting Words in Union Heads' Talk

Repeal of Taft-Harley Act; Defeat of Act's Sponsors Sought

(By The Associated Press)

Fighting words marked organized labor's observance of its own holiday this year as leaders pledged an all-out battle to strike the Taft-Hartley Act from the statute books.

CIO President Philip Murray declared American workers are in a "fighting mood." And AFL President William Green asserted that "labor is rallying its forces to fight against oppression and depression."

Murray, speaking by radio from Kansas City, hammered at the economic consequences he foresees.

"I want to say x x x most emphatically," he declared, "that the nation is heading toward another depression — a depression that could easily make the last one appear to be only a minor economic setback.

"I am not saying that another depression is just around the corner," the CIO chief continued. "I am saying that the present trend of higher profits and smaller and smaller purchasing power must be halted and reversed if we are to avoid economic chaos in the future."

As for the fight he said is ahead, Murray pictured American working men and women as "determined that their unions will not be weakened."

"They are determined to change the anti-labor complexion of congress" he went on. "They are determined to wipe the infamous Taft-Hartley law from the statute books."

Pledges Battle With Ballots

Green, addressing a Labor Day rally at Chicago's Soldier Field, pledged that the AFL's fight will be waged "not with ill-considered strikes, but with ballots, in the peaceful, democratic, and American way."

Green laid down this five-point

Reed Goes from St. Charles to Eldora

Des Moines, Sept. 2—(AP)—Charles W. Reed, 48, assistant superintendent of the Illinois Boys' Training School at St. Charles since 1941, was appointed by the Iowa board of control today as superintendent of the boys' training school at Eldora.

The appointment was effective yesterday and Reed was to take over his duties at the institution this afternoon.

Reed replaces Edward Duffy, who has been acting superintendent since the death of Supt. Fred C. Cooper, June 8.

Duffy formerly was supervisor of cottages at Eldora and may continue with the institution in some such capacity.

Reed, a native of Nebraska, (city unknown), has been engaged in institutional work since 1940. Prior to that time he worked in the hotel and resort management business, mostly in California. He is a veteran of World War 1.

From 1940 to 1944 Reed was business manager and acting superintendent of the Illinois Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's School at Normal and became assistant superintendent of the training school at St. Charles in 1944.

Easterner's Bride of 3 Months Is Being Sought in This State

Bridgeport, Conn., Sept. 2—(AP)—A chartered airplane was standing by at the Bridgeport airport today as a distraught husband awaited word from police about his wife and their adopted three-year-old daughter whom he said had been missing since Friday afternoon with between $1300 and $5000 in his wife's possession.

Meanwhile, police in Bridgeport, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, N. J. and Decatur, Ill. were pressing their search for Mrs. James Moon of Philadelphia, wife of an engineer in a box factory here.

Detective Lieut. Joseph Morris quoted Moon as saying his wife had been at Decatur visiting her mother, Mrs. Grace Smith, last week end had agreed to drive the family car to Bridgeport on Friday, his birthday, to meet him at the Stratfield hotel. While at Decatur, said Moon, his wife of three months arranged to sell her own car.

The detective said that when Moon arrived at the hotel Friday after work, he found that his wife had been there and had left a birthday gift for him. He was informed she had left almost immediately after leaving the present, apparently for Philadelphia, their home.

Moon was under the impression, said Morris, that their plans had become scrambled and that his wife expected him to meet her at Philadelphia. When telephone calls to their home there failed to reach her, Moon went to Pennsylvania Friday to search for her.

Sunday, Moon said, a friend he did not identify telephoned him he had seen his car, a new and easily identified yellow Buick convertible, at Atlantic City with a man behind the wheel. The friend said Mrs. Moon was not in the car. After a search at Atlantic City had failed to disclose either the car or his wife, Moon returned to Bridgeport Sunday and reported her missing.

Morris quoted Moon as saying he feared "foul play" had befallen his wife.

Train Crash Kills 35 Vacationers in Manitoba, Canada

Dugald, Man., Sept. 2 —(AP)— At least 35 persons were killed last night in a collision of a vacationers' special train and a standing passenger express at the Dugald station, 20 miles east of Winnipeg.

Rescue crews clawed through the burned, twisted wreckage of the two trains in an effort to extricate the dead and injured. The west-bound vacation train smashed head-on into the express as the latter was discharging passengers.

Rescue workers toiling at the scene said this morning they had recovered 17 bodies from the charred wreckage of the special train, two cars of which burst into flame immediately after the collision.

Gaye Lewis, 64, of Trancona, Man., engineer of the Canadian National Railways special which was bringing Labor day holidayers home from the Lake of the Woods resort, and Mrs. Albert Simpson of Winnipeg died enroute to hospitals.

Many Bodies Buried

How many more bodies might be buried in the charred wreckage of the coaches no one knew, but some of the estimates ran high. All the victims thus far were said to have been aboard the special.

With a few exceptions the passengers aboard the transcontinntal train, bound from Vancouver to Toronto, escaped with nothing more than a shaking up.

The special was said to have been traveling at about 30 miles an hour when it crashed into the standing express shortly before 11 p. m. (CDT). The second car of the 13 in the special burst into fame at once and fire quickly spread, first to the other coaches and then to a grain elevator standing beside the track at this small flag stop Later it fanned

Holiday's Violent Deaths Total 448

(By The Associated Press)

At least 448 persons died in violent accidents over the three-day Labor Day week end.

Traffic mishaps accounted for by far the majority of the tragedies, with 290 persons dead in crashes on the nation's highways. In addition, 81 persons drowned and 77 were killed in other accidents, including 21 deaths in plane crashes.

The traffic toll was higher than the early estimate of 250 made by the National Safety Council, but it was still well below the all time Labor Day week end traffic fatality figure of 423 in 1941. In that year another 73 drowned and 125 died in miscellaneous violent mishaps, bringing the 1941 holiday's deaths to 621.

California compiled the largest traffic death total — 23. Texas was close behind with 22, and New York and Illinois third with 18 each.

Monday Night Fire Guts Amboy School

Fire of an undetermined source last night badly damaged the Central grade school in Amboy and delayed the opening of classes, originally scheduled for this morning, until next Monday.

Approximately 160 grade school pupils in Amboy will get an unexpected reprieve from classroom work because of the fire.

Dixon Patrolman Is Suspended by Chief

Chief Harry Fischer of the Dixon police department yesterday suspended Patrolman A. Ray Wilson for a period of 30 days for insubordination.

The 28-year-old Wilson, a member of the force for six years, did not care to comment on the suspension, other than to confirm a report that he and Fischer had had differences.

Mayor J. Fred Hofmann confirmed the action but said the disciplinary matter was entirely in Fischer's hands.

Documents Linking 53 U. S. Firms With Nazi Trust Are Introduced

Nuernberg, Germany, Sept. 2 —(AP) - American prosecutors introduced today documents linking 53 United States firms with the defunct I. G. Farbenindustrie chemical trust, illustrating the world wide influence of the sprawling German combine.

The records were offered without comment in the trials of 22 Farbenindustrie directors, whose fate may be decided if they are convicted as charged with waging aggressive war. The trust crumpled with Germany.

(American companies mentioned in the indictment have denied stoutly that any agreement they had with Farbenindustrie weakened the United States as an arsenal. On the contrary, they have declared their links with the German combine, which were established in the business of peacetime years, strengthened the war potential of the United States.)

Firms listed without designation of the extent of participation included:

Advance Solvents & Chemical Corp., New York, San Francisco, Chicago Kansas City, Los Angeles, Jacksonville, Fla.; AFGA Ansco Corp., Binghamton, N. Y., Boston and Cincinnati; Chemical Associated Cook Laboratories, Chicago; General Dyestuff Corp., New York, Boston, Charlotte, Chicago, Philadelphia, Providence and San Francisco, Antidolor Manufacturing Co., New York, Chicago, San Francisco; and Winthrop Chemical Co., of New York, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, New Orleans, St. Louis and San Francisco.

Listings were taken from Farben's own records captured at Frankfurt by American troops.

17 Cases Set for Trial by Jury in Lee Circuit Court

One of the heaviest lists of jury cases in recent court records was arranged for September term of court by Judge George C. Dixon in Lee county circuit court this morning, with the damage suit filed by Everett Donoho against J. E. Harrison, Gerald and Margaret Reynolds, set for Sept. 22 the first to be heard.

A total of 17 jury cases were set for trial at the docket call in Circuit court this morning, in addition to seven cases scheduled for trial without a jury.

Judge Dixon announced that all jury trials will be tried within a period of approximately four weeks. He said that the first jury called would serve for two weeks, and that another jury would be called for duty Oct. 6.

New Policy Outlined

He outlined the new policy in order to dispose of all cases as quickly and orderly as possible, to avoid delays and for greater economy. The plan, he said, would be in effect from now on in Circuit court here.

He also revealed that if hearings in the criminal charges now pending against Rep. Lyle M. Prescott and William E. and Leroy F. Meyers should overlap with any of the cases scheduled today, he would move into Lee County court to hear the cases listed today. Judge Leon A. Zick, Oregon, has been called in to preside in the land cases.

Donoho, administrator of the estate of the late Shirley Mae Donoho, asks $10,000 damages in each of two counts against Harrison and Gerald and Margaret Reynolds for fatal injuries which the Donoho girl allegedly received when cars diven by Harrison and Reynolds collided two miles north of the Lowell park entrance on White Pines road May 11, 1945.

The complete trial list, as announced this morning, follows:

Snarled

Stewartsville, N. J., Sept. 2 —(AP)—Henry Mecsey reported his barn in flames and watched for the arrival of the fire company from nearby Phillipsburg.

When it was reported entangled in yesterday's heavy holiday traffic, Mecsey summoned a second company to attempt the five-mile route to his burning barn. It too was snarled in the stream of slow-moving vehicles and the same thing happened to a third company called by Mecsey. They couldn't get through the traffic jam.

The fourth was more successful. It came within several hundred yards of the barn and then broke down. The farmer hauled out his tractor and pulled the fire-fighting apparatus the remaining distance.

The fire, however, already had run its course. The barn and its 50 tons of hay, valued at $10,000, were listed by Mecsey as a complete loss

Lee Co. Prosecutor and Sheriff on Way for Younger Meyers

Carry Requisition Papers for Third Man in Land Indictment

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires and Sheriff Gilbert C. Finch were nearing California today with requisition papers for Leroy F. Meyers, named Tuesday in six dictments returned by the Lee county grand jury with Rep. Lyle M. Prescott and William E. Meyers.

Pires and Finch left Dixon by automobile Saturday for Sacramento, Calif. Pires said last week that the younger Meyers would not waive extradition.

The three men are accused of conspiring to defraud the state and landowners by informing the Conservation department that land was for sale at prices higher than those asked and received by the owners. The elder Meyers and Prescott have posted $10,000 bond each and will file motions to quash the indictments by Sept. 15.

Issuance of the requisition papers came after a petition for a hearing in Springfield, filed by Attorney John Hall, counsel for the Meyers, had been denied.

Atty. General Investigates

Meanwhile, Attorney General George F. Barrett was quoted by the Associated Press in Chicago yesterday as saying that his office is investigating to determine if any overpayments by the state conservation department for the Latta and Hanson farms can be recovered by the state.

Barrett, the Associated Press reported, said the conservation department's procedure in purchasing the two farms for the state game refuge was contrary to that usually followed in the sale of land to the state.

He said that his department examined abstracts of title to the farms, noted objections, and sent the abstracts back to the conservation department.

Then, Barrett said, the state director of conservation, Livingston Osborne, sent state purchase warrants for the two farms, totaling $60,120, to Prescott. Instead, the attorney general declared, the closing of the purchase should have been handled by James E. Bales, Assistant Attorney General here.

The indictments alleged the state paid $20,080 for one farm, but that the owners, Amy D. and William B. Latta, were told the state paid only $18,000. The indictment added that another farm, owned by Charles A., Gust E., and Della M. Hanson, allegedly was bought by the state for $40,800 although the Hansons asked only $35,000.

Prescott said the charges were "a deliberate political frameup designed to put me out of public life," and declared "if his case is ever tried, I shall be fully vindicated."

Osborne was not available for comment. His office said he was expected back at the end of the week.

One Pilot Killed as Wildest Flying Race Closes Shop

Cleveland, Sept. 2—(AP)—Air racing's newly crowned champions, prepared to go home with more than $10,000 in prize money, paused today to study the record of the wildest race in sport flying history.

Four planes dug into the wet dirt near Municipal airport during the running of the Thompson throphy classic at the National air races yesterday. The toll was one pilot dead, two injured and one able to walk away from a mass of burning wreckage.

The day, rich in flying marks, saw Cook Cleland of Cleveland boost the world's closed course record to 396.1 miles an hour, a jump of 12 miles, and set a new Thompson mark for one lap by turning up 404.4 miles an hour.

The Professional Racing Pilots association headed by Arthur Chester of Los Angeles, was called into meeting this afternoon to discuss steps to increase safety an spectator enjoyment. There were intimations the pilots will ask for stricter regulations for both fliers and planes, and also will seek changes in the race courses.

treaty is aimed only at aggressors. That is to isn't directed against any nation or group of nations. is no capital of Europe or hich can claim rightfully is combination is aimed at it—unless that capital is up to aggressive skullduggery.

Of course the greatest threat to the western hemisphere today is aggressive communism. The danger of the red ism was recognized strikingly yesterday when the American Legion convention in New York adopted a resolution recommending that the Communist party be outlawed as a political party in the United States. However, "aggressive communism is at the moment a generic rather than a specific designation, and covers a very broad field.

Build Sturdy Defense

If and when any nation of the eastern hemisphere raises a finger to force communism onto any country of the western hemisphere, "aggressive communism" will come to be a generic phrase and will apply specifically to the nation sponsoring it. Then the reinforced Monroe Doctrine will come into action.

Because of this communistic threat the defense of the western hemisphere really is divided into two parts: (1) action against direct military attack, and (2) prevention of the spread of aggressive communism in Europe and Asia. The point is that the further the Red tide sweeps across the eastern hemisphere, the greater the danger to North and South America.

So the Inter-American defense conference at Quitandinha, by insuring defensive solidarity of the western hemisphere, has built a sturdy and perhaps invulnerable buttress against aggression.

English Summers Can Be Really Hot, Writer Tells Boyle

Sun Bears Down on Isle When Fog Lifts, AP Staffer Says

(Editor's Note: A few days ago Hal Boyle, writing on the distinguishing characteristics of New York's own peculiar variety of heat wave, spoke of an English summer as something that usually occurs "the third Wednesday in July." Here is an anguished retort from a fellow staffer in London, who begs to differ and offers convincing evidence.)

By ED CREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

London—(AP)—I hate to disagree with Hal Boyle on anything, except maybe the question who'll set up the next chocolate malted, but when he says as he did in that column that we don't have hot summers in England—

Hal, things have changed since you shook the clinging mud of this island from your number elevens. Time was, as you say, when summer would steal in one morning in July, pose for photographs and freeze her little kneecaps off by supper time. But no more, Hal, as sure as I lie here panting in front of the open refrigerator door. Times have changed.

It's Plenty Hot In London

Since Aug. 7, there has not been one day that the big old sun hasn't come scorching through the London haze and the country mist, browning the fields, browning off the people, sunburning noses, drying up fish, frying eggs—eggs? We haven't had a fresh egg since Whitsunday, seems like.

Hot? Being a man not given to exaggeration, Hal, you wouldn't believe me if I told you that the white cliffs of Dover have to be treated with suntan lotion every evening and that beads of perspiration the size of marbles course down the forehead of Abraham Lincoln's statue in Parliament Square.

Hot? It's Gospel true, Boyle, that otherwise respectable Englishmen have gone so far as to shed their jackets in broad daylight, even when they didn't intend to fight. Gad, sir, are all our standards deserting us?

Colder Next Week

What's worse, there is no escape from this blistering heat. The subway stations are so steamy that you expect a couple of Finns to come up and whack you with wet twigs. Movie houses are so hot—no air conditioning, you know—that two actors passed out on the screen last week in a drama of the frozen north.

Londoners, unlike the New Yorkers you wrote about, don't open the windows and strip down to the altogether. It isn't done, old boy. It would embarrass the daylights out of the London bobbies and they have enough to fret about, poor devils, in those thick, hot helmets of theirs.

Of course I write as one of that under privileged handful mired in London the last two weeks in August while millions who haven't had their brains baked out are at the seashore with icy surf trickling over them.

They won't believe, any more than you will, Hal, that the fog and drizzle of the London summer have evaporated for once. They're having a wonderful time picturing the rest of us clustered around a cold radiator, sneezing, shivering, cursing softly. . .

And don't kid yourself, Boyle—by next week we probably will be!

Rifle From Alamo Goes To Texas Organization

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 2—(AP)—Col. Walter Finney Siegmund of Alton, Ill., has presented the Daughters of the Republic of Texas an old flint-lock rifle which wa sfound 11 years ago in the ruins of the Alamo.

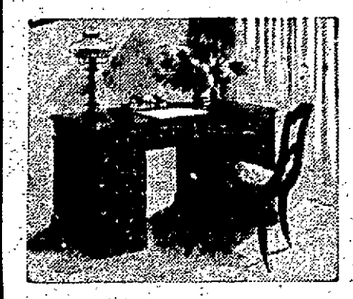

At the presentation ceremonies yesterday, the weapon which had been in the Siegmund family for many years was placed in a case in the center of the Alamo chapel by Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright (Ret), hero of the Battle of Bataan, who was an honor guest.

In his address, Col. Siegmund said "it is my great honor and pleasure to present as a gift from Mrs. Siegmund and myself this long Dickert rifle which last spoke on March 6, 1836, in the hands of an unknown member of the Texas garrison."

He said that Clarence J. Crockett of St. Louis believes the gun once was owned by his great-grandfather, David Crockett.

HINDSIGHT Is Better Than
FORESIGHT
. . . But Not Always

For example . . . bet you've wished many times you'd bought that house for $4,000 that's worth $10,000 today. Or bought that car . . . back in the days when they were cheap. Well . . . that's hindsight—and it's usually better than foresight . . .

But NOT ALWAYS. Foresight can be better ! ! !

For instance right now it's hot . . . and dry—but sooner or later (we hope sooner) it's going to rain . . . snow . . . and get cold. When it does, hindsight will tell you you should have bought waterproof rubber footwear weeks ago.

Here's a suggestion. You know and we know you don't have much need for rubber footwear in September . . . yet now is a mighty good time to buy it. Here's why! (1) We both know bad weather is coming! It can't miss! (2) Our store is not crowded now (it's always mobbed the day of the first big snow) (3) Our complete winter stock of rubber footwear is in. We have every size in practically every style of water proof footwear made. (4) It's a good time to get the kiddies fixed up when you buy their school shoes.

Every year we sell rubber footwear to lots of people with wet feet. These folks are buying by hindsight . . . after the bad weather hits. Folks, it's a real comfortable feeling to have on hand the rubber footwear you'll need when bad weather comes . . . AND WE KNOW IT'S COMING!

In addition to our "famous names" in shoes, we're proud to feature nationally known rubber footwear made by U. S. Rubber Co., Goodrich and Cambridge.

PTA Council Urges Pre-School Checks

Under the heading, "Do You Know", the following item regarding the annual Summer Round-Up for physical examinations for school children has been released by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. It states:

The home is responsible for the health of the preschool child and parents should send to school pupils physically ready to take full advantage of the opportunities that education has to offer. The years from one to five are a trying period in child life. Many physical defects and faulty health habits develop at this age. Neglect means development of conditions which will handicap the child when he enters school.

The Summer Round-Up should result in correction of defects and immunization against communicable diseases. It calls for testing of the child's eyes for no child can get along in school if he cannot see well. The wearing of properly fitted glasses is no hardship for the comfort and help received more than compensates for any annoyance.

The child with bad tonsils and adenoids, aching teetch and defects in hearing will naturally be slow in school. He probably will be the one who misses his classes because of colds and illness. Don't blame him if he comes home with poor report cards, rather blame the parents for their neglect. Medical science has proved that vaccination against smallpox and immunization against diptheria are safe and sure. Too many children have not been protected.

Good health of growing children depends upon the development of healthy habits, such as adequate sleep, rest, exercise, a well balanced diet, personal cleanliness, healthy mental attitudes. The correction of existing physical defects such as those of teeth, tonsils, adenoids, eyes and ears and the early recognition through periodic health examinations of beginning defects and disease are mighty important If your child is starting to school this fall, give him the benefit of the doubt and have him examined—and any defects corrected at once.

A Thought for Today

Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches; feed me with food convenient for me. — Proverbs 30:8.

In everything the middle course is best: all things in excess bring trouble to men. —Plautus.

Roots Go Deep

The Attorney General has announced that his department will investigate alleged price-boosting conspiracies in certain commodity fields. But if hopeful consumers expect that this will result in major price drops they are due for disillusionment.

It is perfectly possible that the Attorney General will find instances of monopoly and illegal price-fixing. But, according to those who know most about the situation, they will be isolated and minor. The vast majority of prices are determined by competition—which means that they are an honest reflection of today's manufacturing and distributing costs. Every major item of expense which must be borne by the factories which make our goods and the retailers who sell them is at an all-time peak.

The roots of high prices thus go deep into the entire American economy. They are found in record wages which have been accompanied by a decline in production per man hour. They are found in the inflationary effect of great government spending, and in the burden of taxation. They are found in heavy buying of goods for Europe, which in some instances causes demand to exceed supply. They are found, too, in the desire of all segments of the population to get larger returns for less effort and service.

It is the Attorney General's duty to find and prosecute whatever monopolies may exist. But deliberate "combinations in restraint to trade" are rare exceptions in the intensively competitive America of today—and they can have but small effect on prices.

When Vote Comes

Writing in the New York Times, John P. Callahan states that "indisputable support for the claims that the voters of the nation are tending away from municipal, or public ownership of power plants appears in a round-up of franchise election results held in thirty-four communities in thirteen states since January first, compiled by the Edison Electric Institute."

Only two of the thirty-four communities—5.9 per cent of the total—favored public ownership, while thirty-two favored the private power systems. On the basis of total vote, the sentiment against socialized power was overwhelming—556,999 to 3.368.

Since 1933, Mr. Callahan continued, the voting trend has been steadily away from public ownership. The single exception was 1938, when Federal grants led a short-lived increase in the number of communities voting themselves into the power business. Thereafter, "the vote was consistently in favor of ownership by the business-managed power companies."

Of great significance, the voters have favored enterprise in areas adjacent to great Federal power dams. For example one of the most important of the franchise elections took place recently in the state of Washington. The private utility was given a substantial majority. This, to quote Mr. Callahan once more, "was interpreted by observers on both sides as conclusive evidence that the people of that and other areas preferred private ownership."

To sum up, when the people are given a chance to vote they almost always reject socialism. Congress should remember that when it considers proposals to force socialism down the public throat

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

(Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Washington—Mr. Truman's official associates have planned to celebrate Labor day tomorrow with picnic speeches around the outlying precincts, taking the Republicans apart for having wrecked the Labor department. Particularly in the department itself, the clambake orators have primed themselves with accusations that the Republicans broke their own party platform pledges to make the department really amount to something, as an agency to handle all labor matters. Instead the Republican congress cut the ex-Perkins center down to bureau-size, or you might say, to a place for Secretary Schwellenbach to handle the women's bureau and gather up a few statistics, but not much else.

The president unsheathed these accusations first when he gleefully let a reporter pin him down in a press conference to make the charge that the Republicans had "torn up" labor's own department here.

In a way, Mr Truman is right. During the war, government had as many as 44 distinct and separate labor bureaus. The Republicans seized on this, and in their 1944 platform called for one department to handle all labor matters. Their actions since then appear to have violated this. They took away the conciliation service and gave it an independent director. Then when Mr. Truman tried to transfer the U. S. Employment Service (which certainly sounds like a labor problem) back into the Labor department, the congress defeated his reorganization plan, and left the bureau in the Federal Security Agency. Furthermore, the White House tried to get back into the Labor department the administration of its wage-hour law, which has an independent status, and has been really administered independently by William R. McComb. Mr. McComb has shown both independence of the Labor department and also management, as an impartial administrator. His transfer back in under Schwellenbach failed in congressional defeat of the Truman reorganization.

All this being true, it does not tell half the whole story. The Republicans did these things deliberately, and the question is whether they acted in the public interest. Schwellenbach, for instance, has as assistant secretaries a CIO man and an AFL man, McComb's bureau would go to one or the other. There are 60,000,000 jobs involving wages and hours nowadays, but CIO-AFL membership amounts to perhaps 15,000,000. In the interests of the other 45,000,000 workers of the country, the maintenance of independence for the wage-hour administration might be far more important than keeping a relatively minor campaign promise.

It was FDR who first took the U. S. Employment Service out of the Labor department and gave it to Federal Security. Mr. Truman tried to send it back with an executive order, under his war powers, but the powers expired and congress defeated reorganization Congress had a good reason for this also. The federal-state unemployment compensation is still in social security. Most state compensation plans are set up so a man cannot get compensation if he can find a suitable job. State laws make these two bureaus intertwined practically in one, so congress left them both in Federal Security.

Recision of the Conciliation service was likewise deliberate and not without reason. Congress figured the Labor department regards itself as the spokesman and special friend of organized labor, and congress wanted a Conciliation service which would be truly what it was meant to be—an impartial go-between affiliated with neither employees nor management. A Conciliation service in a union controlled bureau would not service simple public purposes.

How unionistically partisan the labor department is, showed itself again only recently. One of Schwellenbach's aides (John Gibson) delivered a speech to the Kansas City CIO convention denouncing the Taft-Hartley bill, and saying it might—might destroy collective bargaining. He also denounced congress for slashing the Labor department budget and cutting its functions.

What has happened to the Labor department therefore, seems attributable mostly to its lack of independence and impartiality. A department which professes to be the agency of labor in government is hardly the place to manage bureaus which are supposed to act impartially in the public interest.

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

(Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New York — The New York Herald Tribune of August 24 gave almost two columns of its Sunday theatrical section to free advertising for Carson Kanin, the author of a Broadway play called "Born Yesterday". On page one of the theatrical section there was a photograph three columns wide and about one-third of a column in depth, and a poor picture at that, showing a rehearsal of a new play by Donald Ogden Stewart. On page two there was an absolutely gratuitous publicity story by one Irving Drutman.

Inasmuch as the Herald Tribune was devoting so much space to Kanin and Stewart and their enterprises it seemed to me ulterior and unpardonable that the paper refrained from mentioning what sort of politics they practice and company they keep. I think that was very bad editing and I deny that the editors of the Herald Tribune are that bad.

"Born Yesterday" is a successful show in which a member of the U. S. senate who may be said to personify the legislative branch of representatives government is depicted as a venal, cringing, cowardly and altogether contemptible grafter engaged in corrupt traffic with a rogue capitalist, personifying free enterprise. The comedy is discoursed by a standard, casting-bureau dumb blonde, who plays a standardized dead-pan role as the crooked capitalist's kept woman, or moll. By the exercise of considerable license, Kanin introduces as a his hero a reporter for the New Republic, a weekly, of which Henry Wallace is now the editor.

Never in my memory as a professional reporter dating since 1919 has the New Republic performed any feat of initiative, or, as we sometimes put it, enterprise reporting, revealing any scandalous condition in public life.

Incidentally, there is a historic initiative or enerprise story kicking around the New Republic's own shop at this moment which it has ignored thus far. I refer to the true story of Henry Wallace's implication in a weird Oriental sect of idolators who built a Joss-house on Riverside drive and some of whom regarded Wallace's own Guru, or prophet, Nicholas Roerich, a Russian, as God Almighty. Not only Wallace but Sen. Robert F. Wagner, Congressman Sol Bloom, who was the Democratic chairman of the foreign affairs committee, and Morris Ernst, a politico-ideological lawyer of the Roosevelt adherence, recently and belatedly have been caught in interesting relations with Roerich, who was hostile to the economic system underlying our government. The Joss house on the drive was the spiritual and political capitol of a cult which projected the Roosevelt New Deal to a supernormal spiritual plane to be arrived at by the elect of mankind and only by the elect, or surviving few, after holocausts in which the unfit would be eliminated and all divisions of races had been obliterated. The capital of the world, political and spiritual, would be somewhere in the Himalayas, probably in Tibet.

The New Republic has ignored this invitation to an exploit to which it has ready access.

In Kanin's play "Born Yesterday", the Washington reporter for the New Republic is virtuous in the political or idoelogical sense but seems a little sloppy in his morals according to the familiar standards of Christianity and our public laws.

The capitalist who personifies free enterprise is a crude, greedy fellow with even less classroom education that Elliott Roosevelt or Harry S. Truman and he engages the New Republic fellow to culturize, or educate, his dumb blonde so that she will be a social credit to him. The capitalists who have been buying tickets for "Born Yesterday" ever since a year ago last winter, are, in fact, so stupid that they are sent rolling in the aisles by the blonde when, evincing premonitory symptoms of culture, she hollers at her capitalist friend that he is "not couth".

I gathered that the New Republic fellow and the blonde violated not only some of the lesser public statutes but, much worse, one of the dearest fish-and-game rules of our society and chivalry which forbids mischief or nonsense, first degree, between male and female who have been put on trust and on their honor as these two were by the loathsome capitalist.

The plot does not trouble itself with particulars and the author M. K., escapes, as it were, in the confusion as the gullible upper classes in the audience howl over with his gaudy diversions Vaguely, the New Republic man comes off victorious. He kills his own story but he scotches a plot to swindle the government and he makes off with the blonde, possibly to lawful wedlock.

Illinois One of Few States Making Effort To Stop Delinquency

The American Public Welfare association listed Illinois as one of a score of states in which the legislatures this year took major action to solve the problems of juvenile delinquency.

In Illinois, a new child labor law prohibits employment of boys and girls under 16 at bowling alleys, pool halls, taverns and other amusement places. The life of the Illinois welfare functions commission was extended two years.

DOCTOR WOODWARD'S AMBITION

By Elizabeth Seifert

© by Elizabeth Seifert, Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC

THE STORY: Andrew takes Susan dancing, tries to kiss her good night. When she refuses, he accuses her of being in love with Malcolm Glenn. Susan denies this but doesn't tell Andrew she's engaged to Martin.

ANDREW was falling in love with Susan Perry, a fact which somewhat obscured his usual clear judgment. Had this not been the case, he would not have hoped ever that she took his attentions seriously because of the way she remained calm before the gossip she must have heard about his favors to Huppert.

Andrew was the sort of man to speak flatteringly to any woman. He had much to gain from a friendly attitude on Huppert's part. It was second nature for him to polish the apple whenever the chance occurred. So he said outrageous things to Huppert, called her Sweetheart most of the time, gave her small gifts—a pair of red gloves to match a red hat he made fun of, a box of hoarhound the day she was speechless with laryngitis, a bouquet of dandelions picked from the terrace of the Hospital lawn. He flattered her boldly, and beyond all reason. Huppert lapped up his extravagant praise as a kitten laps cream.

The week after his rebuff from Susan, Andrew invited Miss Huppert to have dinner with him at Angelrodt's. "It must be good. It's out of bounds for the students."

"It's good," Huppert assured him.

They discovered that the place was crowded with students. "We're the blindest people you ever knew," she warned Andrew.

"I hope they're blind, too," he grinned. "It won't help my reputation any to have it told I was here with you."

"What's the matter with me?" he demanded.

"Nothing but your hat," he retorted. "Huppert, why do you wear coy hats?"

SHE leaned toward him; she had had a few drinks. Her full bosom bulged above the sequin yoke of her black dress. Her face was carefully made up, the lips arched into a perfect cupid's bow; her hair was curled intricately. "Sugar," she said carefully, "when a girl spends her days in a uniform and a little starched cap, she blossoms any time and anywhere she gets a chance."

The lighting was dim; closely twined figures danced to the music of a small orchestra enthroned at the end of the room. The food was good, and drink plentiful Huppert talked happily to Andrew about hospital gossip, completely covering both sides of the question of whether they'd take a girl intern in O.B. next year.

"A woman really should not try to be a doctor," Huppert said solemnly. "Plenty of other fields for her in the profession. Nothing wrong with nursing, is there?" Her round blue eyes challenged him.

"Not the way you do it, Sweetheart," he murmured.

"Not the way anybody does it!" she declared. "I don't hear any complaints from you about Susan Perry. Look, Doc, you don't like her better'n you do me, do you?"

"I'm here tonight with you," Andrew pointed out.

"Yeah, I know. I coulda told you you wouldn't get anywhere with her."

"You mean I'm not attractive?"

"You're wonderful, Doc. But Susan—didn't you know she is engaged?"

Andrew's eyes blinked "Is she?"

"Well, she doesn't wear a ring, but I guess you would say she and Martin Glenn have an understanding."

Andrew's Adam's apple slid up his throat, and down. Again he felt that hot resentment against Martin. The devil, he'd not guessed! What a thing for him to miss, what a chance— And he'd been searching for Glenn's vulnerable spot. Of all the bungling. . . . So that was why he'd got nowhere with Susan!

"I'D have said her yen was for Martin's brother," said Andrew, carefully. He watched Huppert over the rim of his glass. "In fact, I did say that to Susan."

Miss Huppert giggled. "Oh, you didn't!"

"I did. I really thought she was in love with him."

"What did she say?"

"Oh, something about worshiping the ground he walked on, but in a pure sort of way."

Huppert chuckled. "She is—well—devoted to Dr Malcolm. I'll grant that. In fact, it's pretty scandalous, that devotion. When he spends the night at the Hospital, as he does sometimes—he has a bedroom in his office suite—only Miss Perry can go to his room. I'm Supe, but she faces me down on that point."

"I thought you were smarter than that, Huppert," Andrew drawled, watching her face.

His remark angered her. An ugly flush spread over her cheeks. "I'll show 'em who's smart," she muttered.

"You want to be careful," Andrew counseled. "The Acting Chief can always get a new Supe. Better wait till the new Chief is appointed—"

"Why wait, if they appoint Glenn?"

"But—they might not appoint him."

She narrowed her eyes, seeking to read his meaning.

"If he were going to be Chief, I'd think he'd be that already, wouldn't you?"

"Well—Pop's still alive."

"Just."

"He's smarter than you think, Doc. He stays in his room, but he knows everything that goes on in the Lab. You'd better count on that," Huppert warned him.

WIREMEN, POLO NAB FLAGS; SUBLETTE TIES

Division Playoffs Begin Next Sunday

Reynolds Wire nailed down the Western division bunting and Polo grabbed Central branch honors Sunday while Sublette tied Paw Paw-Compton for Eastern laurels.

President Hank Henry of the Eastern circuit said yesterday the Sublette-Paw Paw deadlock may be played off at Reynolds field Sunday as the first game of a double-bill.

The winner would then meet Polo in the first inter-divisional playoff tussle as the second portion of the card.

Original playoff plans called for the Eastern and Central winners to clash Sept. 7. The Western titlist was then slated to meet the loser of this game Sept. 14. On Sept. 21, the Sept. 7 winner and the Western kingpin were to clash for the Midwest championship.

This arrangement can still be employed if the double-bill program is arranged.

Details of Sunday's games:

PLAYOFF MEETING

President Hank Henry of the Eastern division announced this morning that the managers of Polo, Reynolds Wire, Sublette and Paw Paw-Compton are requested to meet at the Henry store at 7 p. m. Wednesday to decide the playoff schedule.

WIREMEN WIN 8-0

Walton, Sept. 2 —(Special) Reynolds Wire of Dixon captured the Western division pennant Sunday, beating Walton 8-0 behind the six-hit hurling of John "No-Hit" Rucker.

Rucker threw air-tight ball at Mgr. John Morrissey's contenders, who were fighting to repeat their 1946 Western honors. He was also aided by four double plays executed by the fine Wireman infield.

The Wiremen slugged Art Mennem for 13 base hits as most of their scoring occurred in the late innings. Included in the hit bag were six doubles and a triple.

MAROONS TRIUMPH

Polo squeezed out a narrow 16-15 verdict over State Hospital at the Hospital Sunday to annex the Central championship by one-game over their Dixon rivals.

The slugfest battle see-sawed back and forth most of the game. Polo held a 10-2 lead at one time after knocking out Norman Thomas with a nine-run barrage in the third inning but Hospital rallied to make a game of it.

Southpaw Bob Hardt went the route for Polo against Thomas and Mgr. Charlie Clutts.

SUBLETTE BEATS R & H

Sublette pulled into a first-place deadlock for the Eastern division crown Sunday by sending Roberts & Hess to a 7-4 defeat at Reynolds field. Both Sublette and Paw Paw-Compton finished their schedules with 12 victories and two defeats.

Sublette used three scoring outbursts to nullify the 10-hit pitching of George McGraham. McGraham again operated with lack of support as his club fumbled eight times.

Jim Schmitt, who hurled a no-hitter again Amboy earlier in the campaign, permitted eight hits but did not walk a man while striking out eight.

Sunday Softball Card Hit Again

Sunday evening's softball card at the airport was cancelled late that afternoon after the Kewanee Dome club, scheduled to meet the United Cigar All-Stars, called at 4 p m with the word they were playing in a tournament and could not make the trip.

Only Saturday afternoon, Booking Manager John Lange of United had answered a Kewanee query as to the time of the game. No mention of a possible cancellation was talked about at that time.

The cancellation was another of a series of unfortunate mishaps to the Sunday programs.

Other teams who were booked here and then did not show up were Walt's Bungalow of Beloit, Monroe, Wis., and Freeport.

However, these appearance failures are through no fault of the Dixon group. In every instance the teams had given assurance they would be present.

It appears as if the All-Stars are simply in a bad luck rut as most of the cancellations have come within a few recent weeks.

Efforts are now being made to contact all other scheduled Sunday foes to determine their willingness to play contracted dates.

U. S. Keeps Cup; Schroeder Stars

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 2—(AP)—Once more, the Davis Cup belonged to the United States today, saved by California's tennis buddies, stubble-haired Jack Kramer and s h o e l e s s Ted Schroeder, in a 4-1 triumph over the challengers from Australia.

It may be a long, long time before the tennis world sees another singles battle like the one yesterday in which Schroeder outlasted Dinny Pails to apply the clincher to the five-match series.

For 71 games the two players fought, with Schroeder discarding his shoes half the time and Pails missing several chances at victory, before the American finally won out, 6-3, 8-6, 4-6, 9-11, 10-8.

It was the longest singles match ever played in a Davis Cup challenge round.

The match, which lasted three hours and ten minutes, completely captivated the holiday crowd of 9,000 and turned the finale in which Kramer crushed John Bromwich, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, into an anti-climax.

Kerley Star of R & H Win Over Knacks

With Bud Kerley showing his best stuff of the season, oft-beaten R & H trampled on Knacks, 11-2, at Reynolds field yesterday.

Kerley handcuffed Knacks' home run swingers with five hits as his mates hopped on Bob Currie and Jim Devine for 14. Highlighting the barrage was Wayne Shaulis' inside the park homer to deep right center.

Currie retired after the sixth to absorb the loss but Devine was also treated roughly, giving up five runs in the ninth.

Injuries in the late innings were suffered by "Choppy" Phillips of R & H, hit in the head with a throw as he pulled into third base, and "Pinky" Walters of Knacks, who was clipped on the knee by one of Kerley's ninth-inning tosses.

Midget Racing at Mendota Tonight

Mendota, Sept. 2 —(Special)— Tony Bettenhausen, the Tinley Park, Ill., midget master, one of the hottest speed boys ever to face the starter's flag at Tri-Counties fairgrounds, will be out to make it two features in a row tonight when the third in the current series of Class A midget auto races is presented under sanction of the Midwest Racing association.

Time trials begin at 7:30 (CDT) with the first race starting promptly at 8:30.

By BOB FALLSTROM

Jim Dickerson, manager of the Central division pennant-winning Polo Maroons, is set to take off on a vacation trip this week to New Orleans.

He has handed the pilot's reins to Catcher Newt Smith until his return. Smith will boss the club in its first playoff test Sunday.

Incidentally, unless the playoffs end in a hurry, Polo may lose several of its stars . . . boys who must report for the fall college term.

FEAT DUPLICATED—In our "Down Memory Lane" column of Friday we told of a Sterling player who belted two home runs in one inning against the Dixon Brunswicks, Sept. 5, 1914.

That feat was duplicated at the State Hospital in a Midwest league game last year by Billy Anderson of Ohio, a card from an Ohio fan reveals.

Anderson hit a pair of four-baggers in the seventh inning as Ohio scored nine runs.

DOUBLE LOSS—A fine crowd sat in on Reynolds Wire's 8-0 conquest of Walton at Walton Sunday. But the assemblage didn't care much for the game as their team's loss meant the forking over of hundreds of dollars in bets.

Walton fans were sure their boys would come through and consequently bet 'em to the limit.

Rep. Hubert Considine described the game from a public address system furnished by Jay Curran of Dixon.

PLAY CONVICTS—West Brooklyn's third place Eastern division outfit went to prison Sunday.

Of course they escaped the bastille in short order after beating the convicts at the old state prison in Joliet, 9-8.

It was West Brooklyn's third contest behind walls and their second victory. Both of the other matches were at Stateville prison, which has almost superseded the Joliet setup.

Kay Knauer lefthanded his way to the close victory. Both sides played pretty good ball, Kay reported yesterday.

Since hearing of the expedition, Mgr. "Speed" Saunders is determined to take his band of R & H boys there also.

SHORT SHOTS—Frank Seno's Boston Yankees of the NFL dropped a 14-7 exhibition tilt to the Detroit Lions Sunday . . . The stork visited Mr and Mrs. Rheo Riopelle, with a 6 lb. 8 oz. daughter Friday night. They also have two sons . . "Bus" Egler, playing for the first time since clouting four home runs against Walton Aug. 17, garnered only a single off Bud Kerley of R & H yesterday. He struck out twice and popped to third another time . . . Carleton Crowell of Oregon has been named track coach at the U. of Tennessee Knoxville . . . A St. Louis Browns scout watched Sunday's Reynolds Field twin-bill.

Legion Outfit Nabs 2 Weekend Games

Dixon's Junior American Legion club swept two games over the holiday weekend by trouncing Sublette 8-2 in an abbreviated five-inning Reynolds field go Sunday and then measuring Sterling 10-2 at the SHS stadium yesterday.

Ivan Johannes, the sensational Belvidere chucker, pitched six hitless rounds before yielding two safeties and two runs yesterday.

One of the hits fell into center field when the Dixon gardener lost it in the sun, both runs scoring.

Otherwise, Sterling did not obtain a hit as Johannes fanned 14 enemy batsmen. Buchanan starred for Dixon with two doubles and a home run.

Ronnie Sitter pitched the Sunday triumph, also a two-hit job. Tom Jordan paced the offense with his first homer of the season.

Freeport Next Sunday

Next Sunday, Mgr. Tom Jordan hopes to play Freeport at Lowell park with Freeport's no-hit ace, Bill Winters, opposing Sitter on the rubber. Sitter has won six 13th District games, losing only to Rochelle when he was handicapped by an injured hand.

Lair First Netter to Gain Semi-Finals

Play in the City tennis tournament continued today after a long weekend of net action.

Bud Lair became the first singles semi-finalist by beating Mike Rosenberger, 6-3, 6-4, in the quarter-finals after drawing a first round bye. Rosenberger previously disposed of Dick Ward, 6-3, 7-5.

In other upper bracket singles play, Don Russell licked Rev. Alan McLain of the Church of God, 6-4, 7-5 Russell opposes defending champion George Covert, seeded No. 1 and given an opening round bye, tonight.

Bill Moser trimmed Bud Keeney, 6-3, 6-4, and Red McNamara won over George Acker, 6-2, 6-3, in lower bracket singles play. Moser goes against Ted Mason, the No. 2 seeded man, today while Elwood Schmidt and Phil Reilly also tangle, the latter in a first round tiff.

Lair-McNamara To Finals

Lair and McNamara won a finals berth in the doubles by coasting in with a 6-2, 6-3 decision over Acker and Reilly. This was the only lower bracket match.

Russell and Rosenberger defeated Ward and McLain, 6-2, 6-0, and then bowed to Covert and Mason, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, in a torrid upper bracket duel.

Thus the doubles title will be decided when the Mason-Covert and Lair-McNamara combines get together.

Big Nine Grid Workouts Begin

Chicago, Sept. 2 —(AP)—Football practices opening at Big Nine schools today and tomorrow will draw a total of 600 players, 275 of whim are holdover lettermen—a parade talent which Coach Fritz Crisler of Michigan tabs as "the greatest reservoir of material in conference history".

Generally, the Wolverines are ranked early season favorites to win the championship and represent the Big Nine in the Rose Bowl extravaganza. Although Crisler has 70 candidates, including Bob Chappuis, the 1946 conference rushing champion with a 5.3 average, among hsi 28 monogram-wearers, he figures Michigan is overrated.

Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame, who meets Iowa Oct 25, observed that the Hawkeyes should be the most improved bunch in the midwest this season. Eddie Anderson isn't talking, but as he began drills today 33 lettermen were among 54 prospects to greet him. Iowa undoubtedly deserves the darkhorse bracket as it prepares to open its season Sept. 20 with North Dakota State — first starter in the Big Nine — and follow up the next week end at U. C. L. A. All other teams begin on Sept. 27 with Pitt at Illinois, Vanderbilt at Northwestern, Indiana at Nebraska, Michigan State at Michigan, Washington at Minnesota, Missouri at Ohio State, and Wisconsin at Purdue in the headlining conference opener.

Plaque Fund Now Totals $172

Weekend contributions of $5 from Don Rosecrans and $1 from Orville LeGore swelled the plaque fund to purchase a memorial for DHS lettermen killed in World War II to $172.

Present plans indicate the drive will come to a close this weekend. If you wish to donate to this worthy campaign, contact Bob Fallstrom, sports editor of The Telegraph.

Ft. Sheridan Plays United Thursday Eve

The army comes to town Thursday eve to feature a softball double-header at the airport.

A group of GI's from Fort Sheridan, the camp near Chicago, will take on the United All-Stars in the second half of the night's entertainment after Three Deuces and Lakeshire-Marty play a postponed league game at 7 p. m.

Cpl. Bill Bowers of Dixon manages the soldiers and also does the pitching. Present plans indicate he'll oppose Mgr. Lyle "Flash" Fordham of United on the hillock.

According to Bowers, the Fort Sheridan crew plays some classy softball which should make for an interesting tussle.

Ohio Blasts Out Easy 18-5 Triumph

Compton, Sept. 2 —(Special)—Ohio completed its Central division schedule Sunday by handing Compton-Paw Paw an 18-5 drubbing, marking the second straight week the Colts had absorbed a lacing from the Ohioans.

Mgr. Ed McGraw stopped the Colts with five hits while his mates combed Hanson and Bradley for 17. Howard Ogan smashed a triple and home run to pace the winners' attack.

Ohio's victory was its 10 of the season, compared to four losses.

To Leave Dixon

The Rev. N. J. Broadway, pastor of the Bethel United Evangelical church, Galena and Morgan st., was elected to the office of Presiding Elder and District Superintendent of the Ohio and Illinois district of the Western Conference which convened the past week in Akron, Ohio.

Rev. Broadway has been a successful pastor of the Dixon church for the past four years and will be missed in the community. The Dixonland Youth for Christ was begun two years ago last May under his leadership and meets every other Saturday night in the various churches. Since his residence in Dixon he has been the assistant superintendent for the Illinois churches as well as pastor of Dixon Bethel, so is very familiar with the work. In his capacity as presiding Elder he will be visiting the Bethel and St. James churches every quarter. He will take up his residence in Akron, Ohio, where the district parsonage is located.

The Rev. Fred Cunningham of the Norwood Heights church in Chicago was appointed to the Dixon church. Rev. Cunningham leaves a successful pastorate of seven years in the Norwood Heights church and will be moving to Dixon within the next two weeks. The Cunninghams have two children, a boy of 7 years old and a girl three.

Jack Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Foster of 530 E. Chamberlain St., was licensed as a preacher of the Gospel in the Evangelical Congregational church in the relation of Licentiate Saturday in Akron by Bishop A. W. Cooper.

and is effective for a five year period.

The increases requested are from .13 per cent (the limit authorized under the restrictive amendment) to .30% for building purposes and from .691% to .95% for educational purposes. This year's taxes were based on levies of .1763% and .616%.

Budget on File

A tentative budget now on file and which is expected to govern the present fiscal year provides for an educational levy of .71% and a building levy of .16%.

The last increase in school tax rates was authorized in 1936, at which time the education limit of 1.00% was increased to 1.25% and the building rate was increased from .375% to .525%. The total amounts authorized by these increased limits were never levied in any year.

President J. K. Batchelder stated that it is the policy of the Board of Education to keep operating costs within reasonable limits. However, increased school enrollments will require additional staff members and future salary adjustments may be necessary. For these reasons operating costs will undoubtedly increase during the next five years. He further stated that it has been the policy of the Board of Education for many years to keep the budget balanced and that the Board of Education does not want to adopt a budget until it can be financed by a properly authorized tax levy.

Plans and specifications for two elementary buildings have been completed but the scarcity of materials and the excessive building costs have made it necessary to postpone this new work.

United States Firm

tions to achieve world stability and peace, the United States is determined "to remain strong."

4. The problems of countries in the western hemisphere are different in nature from those of Europe and cannot be relieved by the same means, but "will be approached by us with the utmost good faith and with increased vigor in the coming period."

Truman's address highlighted the closing session of the conference at which delegates have hammered out an unprecedented defense pact binding the Americas to joint action in case of armed attack on any peaceable nation in the hemisphere.

Treaty To Be Signed

Signing of the treaty by the 19 participating nations, in Truman's presence, was arranged for this afternoon in Rio de Janeiro's Itamaraty Palace, home of the Brazilian foreign ministry.

In his morning address Truman took note of the unity of the American nations in agreeing upon one-for-all and all-for-one defense.

"You have made it clear to any possible aggressor", he said, "that the American republics are determined to support one another against attacks.

"Our nations have provided an example of good neighborliness and international amity to the rest of the world, and in our association together we have strengthened the fabric of the United Nations. You can be justly proud of the achievements of this conference and I commend the noble spirit which has inspired your efforts".

Truman declared attainment of world-wide respect for essential human rights is synonymous with the attainment of world peace. Hopes for such attainment "have never been promoted by policies of aggression", he said.

Resources "Not Unlimited

In his discussion of the Marshall plan, the president served notice the resources of the United States "are not unlimited".

"We must apply them", he said, "where they can serve the most effectively to bring production, freedom and confidence back to the world".

The president's big new plane, the Independence, aboard which he, his wife, and his daughter, Margaret, arrived in Rio yesterday noon, was expected to leave for Washington tomorrow, carrying Secretary of State George C. Marshall and other members of the U. S. delegation.

The president will remain in Brazil until Sunday. On Friday, he addresses a joint session of the Brazilian congress, and on Sunday he will review a mammoth parade commemorating Brazil's 125th ndependence day.

When the parade is over he will board the battleship Missouri for the return to the United States, possibly making brief stopovers at the Virgin Islands and San Juan Puerto Rico.

Truman, although "dog-tired" after his 5,200-mile trip from Washington, was all smiles yesterday as he received the tumultuous plaudits of Brazilian crowds. Estimates of the number shouting "Viva Truman" as his car passed through Rio's streets ran as high as a million.

It was the first presidential visit to Brazil since President Roosevelt came here in 1936.

Veterans In Stampede—
Washington, Sept. 2—(AP)—Banks poured out a stream of cash today to veterans hurrying to turn their terminal leave bonds into spendable money. An Associated Press survey of major cities showed that in some there was a virtual stampede by many veterans to get cash for the securities given them on discharge from the armed services payments for unused leave. In others, the cashing of bonds was only moderate. Both President ruman and the treasury have urged veterans not to cash their bonds unless they are in urgent need of the money.

Labor Day Brings

program for 1948 as "worth fighting for":

1. Reduction of the cost of living "to a more reasonable level" with price-fixing monopolies "crushed" and inflation halted.

2. Measures to maintain full, year-round employment at "decent" wages.

3 A housing program "which will encourage and speed up the construction of millions of new and comfortable homes."

4. An increase in the present 40-cent an hour minimum wage in interstate industry.

5 A broadened social security system.

Kilgore Hits NMA

In a message read for him at a CIO rally at Clendenin, W. Va., Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) said the nation's workers have the power to "knock the props from under the National Association of Manufacturers and the reactionary Republican ledaers by electing a progressive congress."

Calling the 80th congress a "failure", A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen told a Great Falls, Mont., audience that the Taft-Hartley Act was part of a "well-developed plan to weaken labor unions x x x while restricted production is used to maintain present high prices".

Former OPA chief Leon Henderson joined in the criticism of the new labor law in a speech at Anderson, Ind., but said organized labor itself was partly at fault for permitting the measure's supporters to be in congress.

At Detroit, a CIO rally heard Henry A. Wallace reiterate his contention that "congress and the administration are guiding this country towards depression and war" and that "if we don't make the Democratic party into a party of peace and prosperity we shall build a new party".

An AFL gathering in the motor city was told by Republican Senator Langer (ND) that his party "has to be more like the party of Abraham Lincoln or it will be licked in 1948".

Schwellenbach Speaks

The Labor Day oratory followed a Sunday night speech by Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach in which he declared that despite wage increases industrial profits are running far ahead of last year and wage earners have "not been able to keep abreast of the cost of living".

Schwellenbach took indirect issue with Eril Bunting, head of the National Association of Manufacturers, who contended in a statement that "in spite of all the hubub about high prices" American workers have "a substantial higher actual buying power than they had eight years ago".

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 2.—(AP)—Representatives of organized labor have fired what union and political leaders believe is the opening gun in a battle against the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Immediate objective of the struggle is the Sept. 9 election in Pennsylvania's Eighth congressional district where 37-year-old publican speaker of the state house of representatives, is opposing the candidacy of Phil H. Storch, 36-year-old Democrat and president of the CIO Lehigh Valley Newspaper Guild.

first prize topped a brilliant three-day exhibition. Another Cleveland plane figured in the day's tragedy. Tony Jannazo, popular young flier, crashed with it in the seventh lap and died in the wreckage.

Jack Hardwick of Arcadia, Calif., started the crash series by setting his P-51 Mustang down in a field near the race course. It was a rough landing that tore the plane to pieces and started a fire, but Hardwick walked away and within 15 minutes was back in the race stands.

Then Jannazo crashed, and almost immediately Woody Emondson of Lynchburg, Va., made a forced landing that sent him to a nearby hospital. His condition was described as fair.

Wisconsin Man Wins

William Brennand of Oshkosh, Wis., took home $8,500 for victories in the Goodyear trophy race for midget planes. He averaged 165.8 miles an hour around a two-mile rectangular course.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Petit, of Ventura, Calif., averaged 500.7 miles an hour for 154 miles to win a special division of the Thompson for jet planes. He flew a P-80 Shooting Star, as did the other five contestants.

There was considerable private controversy when the judges took first place away from Lt. Col. Benjamin S. Preston, Jr., of Washington, D. C. because he cut a pylon on the second lap. The jets flew a 22-mile course.

Ken Knight of Walnut Ridge, Ark., won a special $2,500 race for P-63 King-cobra planes with a speed of 352.1 miles an hour.

Race officials estimated paid attendance at 71,000, bringing the two-day total to about 130,000.

stitution shortly after assuming power and declared in effect the 1906 charter, which gave him virtual dictatorial powers.

Mancheno is reported to have mobilized 2,000 troops from garrisons at Quito and the province of Imbabura for action against the counter-revolutionaries.

Davila Commanding

The insurgents were said to be under the command of Col. Angel Baquero Davila. Davila served as defense minister in the exile government of Dr. Mariano Saurez Veintimilla, who Manchena has accused of being the political leader of the revolt.

Saurez Veintimilla was vice president under Dr. Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra, who was ousted by Mancheno's coup and is now in Argentina. Veintimilla clamed the presidency when Mancheno assumed power, but the latter ignored him.

The revolt against Mancheno was started Saturday by the army and constabulary troops at Riogama and Guaranda. Later the uprising spread to other garrisons including those at Ambato and Latacunga.

News Cameraman's Son Lost in Cruiser Blast

Miami, Fla., Sept. 2—(AP)—An explosion aboard the cabin cruiser Vagabond killed five-year-old Richard Waldron and left his 46-year-old cameraman father, Alfred, and brother, Alfred, Jr., burned.

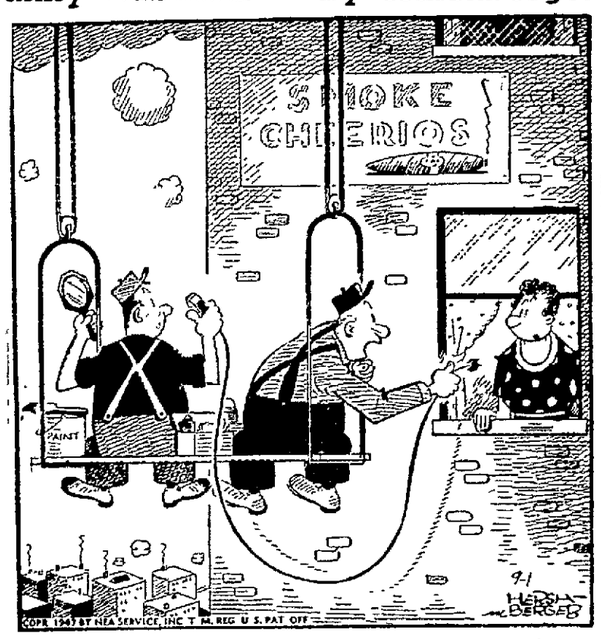

The cruiser was three miles offshore in Biscayne Bay at the time of the explosion yesterday. The elder Waldron, veteran Fox Movietone news photographer, was blown 30 feet over the side as the cruiser caught afire.

Waldron swam back to the flaming boat, seized a son under each arm and leaped into the water. The hand which held Richard was crippled during the Ethopian war and the youngster slipped from his grasp.

The father and sons were on a holiday fishing trip.

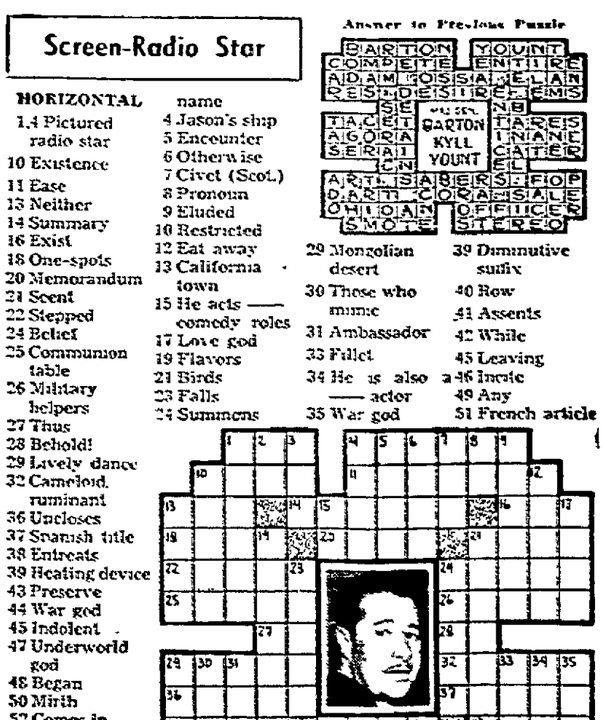

Governor William Bradford of the Massachusetts colony was the founder of the Thanksgiving festival.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 31, was:

'CHRIST JESUS"

The Golden Text was:

"God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved" (John 3: 17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible:

"Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth" (Jer. 23: 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Those instructed in Christian Science have reached the glorious perception that God is the only author of man. The Virgin-mother conceived this idea of God, and gave to her ideal the name of Jesus—that is Joshua, or Saviour. . . . Wearing in part a human form (that is, as it seemed to mortal view), being conceived by a human mother, Jesus was the mediator between Spirit and the flesh, between Truth and error. Explaining and demonstrating the way of divine Science, he became the way of salvation to all who accepted his word" (pp. 23, 315).

Dixonite Writes of Scenes, People on Her Trip to Hawaii

Telegraph Publisher on Tour of Alaska and Hawaiian Islands

Mabel S. Shaw, publisher of the Evening Telegraph, who has been on an extended trip to the Hawaiian Islands by air and to Alaska by boat has written her family in Dixon some interesting letters, descriptive of the places she has visited and some of them will be published in these columns. Let-No. 3 follows:

(Written on the plane to Hawaii)

On July 5th at 5 p. m. we left the Chicago municipal airport on a United Airline plane. We stopped at Omaha and Denver and reached Los Angeles at 2 in the morning (after a very smooth flight) on Sunday. It was 5 a. m. when we retired. We got up at 8 a. m., had breakfast and taxied out to Mrs. Tippens, sister-in-law of Mrs. Walgreen. She returned with us to the Biltmore for dinner.

Through Dr. Dudley Crafts Watson we were invited to the studio home of Boris Lovet Lorski, which is built on one of Los Angeles' highest bluffs. Lorski is a sculptor of note. His studio contains a large collection of specimens of his work, a very fine bust of General MacArthur and other notables as well as many birds and animals.

Soft drinks were served and we spent several pleasant hours. Dr. Watson had an old friend and most interesting one as a dinner guest. She accompanied us all afternoon. An American, she married a wealthy German. She has never heard from her son who was in the war. With her husband she was driven from their home by the Russians. They went with very little money and only the clothes on their backs, and had little to eat. When their money ran out they begged for food. The husband became ill and died. He was buried by his wife, who dug a grave by the roadside. The lady, Mrs. B. Von Randow is now writing a book which will tell the story of torture she endured.

We visited with many interesting people at the studio and learned where many notables lived. Our host was recently written up in Time magazine. Ginger Rogers is Sculptor Boris' next door neighbor. The motor trip out and back was lovely, seeing all the fine homes and beautiful gardens. During our stay in L-A. Mrs. Tippen loaned her comfortable car to Myrtle Walgreen, which was mighty nice for Jane Peterson and myself. Justin Dart, Jr., Mrs. Walgreen's grandson joined us for the afternoon and dinner at night at the Biltmore, where we enjoyed a good floor show. We took Justin home, some miles from L. A. and got back to our hotel at midnight. That ended a full Sunday for us.

Monday, luncheon at the Brown Derby. Earlier went to call on Louella Parsons but unable to see her because she was at the hospital with her husband, Dr. Martin, who is very ill and has been for several months. Louella sent beautiful flowers to our hotel.

Spent a delightful afternoon at Hill Top, the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Holmes. We sat in the attractive garden and were served tea. Mr. Holmes is a very handsome man and very attractive and full of fun. The Holmes are old friends of Jane Peterson. They have an apartment in New York which is their permanent home. Hill Top is filled with beautiful and interesting things, many from China. A porch circles the house, affording a magnificant view of Hollywood. Dinner Monday night was at the Beverly Hills Country Club, a fine club. After dinner, about 10 p. m., went to Earl Carrol's. Unable to get in we went to the hotel and bed about midnight. After the visit to the Burton Holmes we were guests at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Robinson. The actor was on location. Mrs. Robinson was a delightful hostess and a most attractive person, beautiful and stylish and gracious. They have a fine art collection. Their daughter and little granddaughter were introduced to the guests. Wine and cakes were served in the lovely garden.

Have been writing on the Pan-American air liner flight 595 which left Los Angeles at 8:30 this evening for Hawaii. Everything is going fine. Flying smooth as glass. Must stop now. Getting late and lights going out.

Later—Saturday in our chairs all night and slept. Stewardess gave each a pillow and blanket. It grew a bit cold. About 5 this morning we were served with hot coffee, orange juice and rolls. Soon after, the sign flashed "fighten your seat belt." It was a little rough but nothing to speak of. We arrived in Honolulu on time. 7 a. m. The city looked beautiful as we came in. Mayor Wilson and Mrs. Ho were at the airport. So were Grace Warren, Kay and Bob, all loaded with beautiful leis for all nine in the party. Mr. Wilson said his 7 passenger car and chauffer were at our disposal during the stay. Likewise Mrs. Ho and the Warrens extended courtesies. Found a note from Mrs. Tenny Peck to call her. I did and she invited us to dinner Saturday night. Also am invited to a dinner given by Mayor and Mrs. Wilson and a Chinese dinner by Mrs. Ho. Pan-Am. is a fine air line, serves delicious meals, the hostess was most attentive, magazines and writing paper was furnished us.

Honolulu, July 10, 1947

My Dear Family:—

Want to get this off on the first mail. Well, here I am safe and sound and your worries are over. Having a grand time. Weather perfect. I hope you can make out what I have written — under difficulties. So much going on, it seems we have no spare time. I'll scratch off what we did Wednesday before leaving L. A. Had another breakfast when we reached the Royal Hawaiian. Oh, it is so beautiful here. At one o'clock we have luncheon. At two Mr. Wilson (Mayor of Honolulu) sends his car and driver and Mrs. Ho brings her car and driver and all nine of us can go for a motor ride. Grace Warren is coming also. The day is perfect. Had a little liquid sunshine, as they call their showers here. As we came in on the plane from Los Angeles we went through a few bumpy clouds but it didn't mean anything. I could look out the window and see the surf-riders coming in to the beach on the big waves.

Scions of Pioneer Dixon Family Hold Holiday Reunions

For the first time in seven years the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Patrick have enjoyed a reunion over the holiday weekend, and during that time they were reminded by many things they saw in their tours of the city of the artistry of their father—artist, philosopher, friend of all—and his helpmate. Many things that have happened in Dixon since Patrick's court bemae Patrick's court.

(Editor's Note—What is now Patrick's Court, in the days preceding, during and for a time after the Civil War, was the estate of these children's grandfather, Shepard Goodwin Patrick, Civil War hero, who had two horses shot from under him during that war between the states, and who was a brilliant lawyer, a former member of the faculty of William & Mary University and who successfully defended a suit against the Mormons in Nauvoo, Illinois.)

Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. George J. Smith, 210 North Galena avenue entertained the group at diner at their home; Sunday afternoon they enjoyed a delightful dinner at Peter Piper's and this evening Miss Frances Patrick will be hostess at a dinner at White Pines State Park.

The family gathering consists of George S. Patrick, Houston, Texas, head of an incorporated Houston, Texas decorating and painting contracting firm; Miss Patrick, Secretary of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. Cadesman Pope, and son, Cadesman, Jr., of Macon, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. The ladies and Mr. Patrick are sisters and brothers. Mr. Pope has many friends in Dixon, for at the time of his marriage to Miss Sue Patrick he was connected with the Dixon district Illinois Division of Highways. Today he is an engineer wth the Georgia highway organization. Mr. Pope is a veteran of World War I, and his son is now a Naval Reserve Officer, a student at the University of Georgia at Athens.
